LOCAL NEWS.

Democratic primary election held to-day.

Rev. W. J. Twitty will preach at Annis' chapel, Court's barn, next Sunday, to-morrow, at 11 a. m.

Mr. C. B. Mason, Greenbackville, offers for sale at private contract in this issue, his stock of merchandise.

Several interesting articles omitted this week because so late in coming to hand, will appear in our next issue.

Mr. John J. Blackstone advertises for sale at private contract in ENTERPRISE, valuable real estate situated near Parkersley station.

Capt. Henry Davis, a well known citizen of Accomac and highly respected citizen at his home near Meadsville last Sunday night, aged 75 years.

Mr. T. M. Scott has for sale several desirable building lots at Eastville station, which he will sell on easy and accommodating terms to purchasers.

The reduced rates at the Maltby House, show that it is alive to the improvements of the times, and determined to give to its patrons full value for their money.

Mr. Webster Chase and Miss Hannah R. Smith were married on the 13th inst., at the residence of Capt. Alsava. One Chase, near Leesville, Rev. J. S. Wharton, officiating.

The store of Mr. Lloyd Savare at Onley station was broken open by thieves last Thursday night, and eighteen dollars in money and a small quantity of goods taken therefrom. The offender is suspected, but so far no arrests have been made.

Ton. Jno. W. G. Blackstone, who has been detained in Richmond since the legislature adjourned in giving his attention to duties, as one of the revisors of the new code, returned home on Thursday.

At the time of the fire in Onancock, Mr. Slocomb, of the firm of Slocomb & Ames was on his way from Baltimore with a stock of goods, worth $5,000, which will be opened by them at Town Hall next week to be occupied by them temporarily as a store.

The Powelton Hotel of Wachapreague city, of which Mr. A. S. Kellam is proprietor, is to be enlarged this spring, to accommodate the numerous visitors from Richmond and other points who have already applied for quarters there this summer.

A campmeeting will be held in grove at Parkersley station this year commencing July 27th, by members of M. E. Church. The campmeeting is to be a large one. Several tentholders are expected from abroad and eminent divines are to be in attendance.

An obituary notice sent us does not find place in our columns this week, for two reasons: No name was appended and such notices exceeding ten lines are charged for at the rate of five cents per line, neither of which conditions were complied with by the writer.

Dr. John W. Bowdoin, Democratic county chairman, authorizes us to say, that he wishes the judges of the primary election to return to him in the most convenient way only the certificate of the number of votes polled for each candidate at the various precincts. He will expect the judges though to preserve the tickets so that a recount could be made by them if necessary. If no more convenient way is presented, of course it is expected that the certificate will be sent promptly by mail addressed to him, Accomac C. H., Va.

At the late session of the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church at Easton, Md., the following appointments were made of interest to our people: Leonard, Rev. J. Wright; Norris, Chichester; Franklin City, Revs. B. F. Jester and B. P. Pruitt; Pittsville, Rev. J. A. Dougherty; Crumpton, Md., Rev. W. A. Moulleaux; Queen Anne's, Md., Rev. F. H. Moulleaux; South Baltimore, Rev. J. E. T. Ewell; Dowlsville, Md., Rev. A. J. Waller; Williamsport, Rev. H. G. Cowan.

Mr. H. C. Doughty now represents the old firm of Phillips Brothers & Co., wholesale dealers in dry goods, 331 & 333 W. Baltimore St. The firm recently refused to compromise with their creditors at less than 100 cents in a dollar, though better terms were offered them, a fact which cannot but commend the firm to all our merchants. Men who have such a regard for their honor are worthy to be trusted and patronized and will be. The firm in securing the services of Mr. Doughty has one of the best and clearest of commercial tourists to look after their interests in this section.

Kent & Wilson, Parkersley station, one of the best and most enterprising firms in our county, have gotten in large quantities of spring goods, and again make their bow to the public. Live men who are always on the alert to secure bargains, and hence are always able to supply their customers with goods on the best possible terms. In addition to their usual stock of goods, they are also carrying a good line of furniture, which they offer at prices which no individual can purchase in the city. They also pay the best prices for everything a farmer has to sell, and have facilities for handling all kinds of produce, poultry &c., however large the quantity. At this time they are repaying the very liberal price of 10 cents per pound.

Greenbackville.

The schooner Peter J. Hart, Capt. J. S. Pruitt master, left here on last Monday for the Chesapeake, after a most successful voyage for Mr. Hancock.

The health of the people of our town at present is better than usual, and it is saying much, as this place is now considered to be one of the most healthful to be found anywhere in the State.

Rev. B. F. Jester and Mr. J. T. Sharp are at this time in attendance at the Maryland Annual Conference, now in session at Easton, Md. It is expected that Mr. Jester will be returned to this circuit to serve another year.

Rev. A. Donovan of Franklin City, preached in the M. P. Church at this place on last Sunday morning. He being the second time the young M. P. preacher had ever appeared before a congregation in a clerical capacity, his effort was a very creditable one and made a very favorable impression on all who heard him.

Mrs. Cordelia E. Tull, a lady highly respected, wife of James H. Tull, of Greenbackville, died on Sunday night, the 3rd inst., of a complication of diseases, aged about 24 years. Mrs. Tull had been confined to her bed for over six weeks, and during that time was a great sufferer. She leaves a husband, father, several brothers and sisters, and two small children, besides a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn her death.

Richard B. Snodgrass, of Cincinnati, Ohio, the gentleman who recently purchased the Winder's Neck property, has donated the old quarters of an acre of land near the old "sign post" about two miles above Liontown, to trustees, for the use and benefit of the M. P. Church, and a church edifice is to be erected there at an early date. The religious denomination seems to be gaining ground rapidly in our town. Its growth is due in a great measure to the fact, that it has always kept aloof from politics.

Vast quantities of oysters are now going to market over the D. M. & V. R. R., both from here and other points along the line of the road. The Interstate Commerce Commission is no advantage to the oyster trade, as the freight charges have been advanced, and oysters in this section of the State have not been in a condition for the last several years to stand any increase in the expense of getting them to market. Much dissatisfaction exists in this section as regards the increased rate of freight charges.

Chichester.

Capt. Brady Swift's condition is worse again. He is now being attended by Dr. Wm. Bowen, of Philadelphia.

Recent arrivals at the Atlantic: Chas. F. Stewart, D. M. Barringer, Capt. B. Shoe, Robert McLeod, Phila. J. D. Jacobs, J. W. Parkhurst, R. J. Saterfield, Baltimore.

As the time for the primary election approaches the interest increases here. Two hundred and twenty-five votes will probably be polled and Gunter, candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney will receive the most of them, about 200; advice from Greenback to the effect that he will receive as large a percentage of the vote polled there.

The building boom usual here in the spring has already commenced. Capt. John B. Wheaton has added a handsome porch to his dwelling, Capt. Wm. Risley has enclosed his premises with a handsome fence and the old hotel is to be remodelled and enlarged and a dwelling to be erected soon by Mr. D. J. Wheaton.

Capt. B. Shoe arrived here on Wednesday in search of information in reference to the three-masted schooner heretofore reported as sunk off Cobbs Island. She was bound from New York to Washington loaded with bricks. Her crew of six, it is supposed, was lost and the force at Life Station will be furnished by Capt. Shaw, of the cutter, which will enable them to identify the crew, in the event they are washed ashore. The rigging, sails &c., of schooner saved by Capt. C. D. Babbitt & Son were sold at public auction Wednesday.

Nassawaddus.

Several new buildings are to be put up at this place during the spring.

Radishes are being shipped in large quantities from this point, daily.

Rumor says that a young merchant of this place is soon to take unto himself a wife.

Mr. John Fisher was thrown from his horse last Monday and though badly bruised, not seriously injured.

Miss Sallie Fathely, one of the belles in this section has returned from a visit to friends in Northampton.

Mr. A. G. Nottingham, a well known and popular merchant of this vicinity, died Tuesday, to the regret of numerous friends.

Mrs. Sallie Rogers, wife of James Rogers, formerly of the Eastern Shore, died at her home in New York on the 3rd inst., and her remains, together with those of two of her children, who died about a year ago, were interred near this place last Monday.

A "surprise party" at Mr. Jas. B. Bell's, last Tuesday night was largely attended by the beaux and belles in this vicinity, and greatly enjoyed. Mr. Bell, though taken by surprise, proved equal to the occasion and not only acted as a most agreeable host in the welcome given to his guests, but showed that he knew how to cater admirably to the tastes of the invited by providing on short notice an abundant supply of ice cream, cake &c.

Craddockville.

Business dull in this section.

The Good Templar's organization at this place has a membership of about eighty.

The Craddockville base ball club was reorganized last Monday and are now open for a challenge.

The schooner, J. W. Crosswell, Wm. T. Kellam, Capt. left Concord Wharf last week with a load of wood for Philadelphia.

The fish here is again heard in our midst and the supply of fish with us promises to be as it usually is in proper season, both select and abundant.

The public school at Davis Wharf closed on 8th inst. Their teacher, Mrs. Manie Rice gave the pupils a treat of candy, cakes &c., on the occasion which was greatly enjoyed.

Chertown.

Potato beds doing well notwithstanding cold and rain.

Capt. C. S. Morgan shipped 40 barrels of spinach last week.

Mr. J. T. Spady, of Cobbs Island has built a very neat house at this place.

Mr. Geo. O. Nottingham is selling the goods recently assigned by Laban J. Savage.

Mr. Sherman, living on Lion. W. L. Scott's farm will sell 8 to 10 thousand barrels of kale this season.

The steamer Cape Charles has been taken off the line to Norfolk, and the Old Point Comfort put in her place.

Mr. John T. Savage's health has improved very much since he stopped attending club meetings, the efforts of his friends having been crowned with success by threatening to give him up if he persisted in his wayward course.

ONANCOCK IN FLAMES.

Fifty-Five Thousand Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

The central and principal business portion of Onancock is in ashes. It was destroyed by fire originating in an unoccupied part of Onancock Tuesday night. When discovered the flames were bursting through the upper story and soon enveloped the stores of Wm. L. Bagwell occupied by Winder & Mapland and Slocomb & Ames on the opposite sides of the street. The fire spread rapidly and the stores of John H. Riley, John W. Duncan and Kellam Broughton & Sons, receiving no check in that direction until it had reached the stores of Powell & Waples and store of Wm. T. Kellam, on the opposite side of the street, by climbing upon the stairs and thoroughly saturating them with water to stop its progress and in saving them together with the Baptist Church and other buildings adjacent to them. In the meantime the store of Wm. T. Kellam, and the store of T. A. Northam occupied by Wm. C. West and J. Gordon, and shoe shop occupied by Pat Scott on opposite side of street had caught fire and were soon destroyed. The shoe shop of John T. Scott, stables and hotel of Benjamin T. Parker were next to fall a prey to the devouring flames, which sweeping down the street towards the steamboat wharf soon consumed to ashes in quick succession barber shop, store of Tully, Book Store of D. J. Carnine, dwelling of Henry Carnine. The fire after raging about three hours was finally gotten under control but not until twenty-three houses, several smaller buildings, enclosures, mercantile goods, household property &c., had been destroyed, aggregating in value about fifty-five thousand dollars. The loss is estimated as follows:

W. R. Hallett, storehouse and stock of goods, $3,000; insurance $1,500; Slocomb & Ames, double storehouse and stock, $17,500; insurance $8,500; Bagwell, shoe store and stock destroyed and damaged $20,000, fully insured; John W. Duncan, jewelry store and stock, $1,000 no insurance; Kellam Broughton & Son, store and stock, $1,200, no insurance; W. D. Lewis, store and stock, $1,000, no insurance; T. A. Northam, two stores and shoe shop, $2,000, no insurance; W. C. West, stock of groceries $300, no insurance; Israel Gordon, stock of general merchandise, $1,800, no insurance; Ben. T. Parker, hotel, stables, barber shop, $2,000, insurance $2,000; L. W. Bagwell, store and unoccupied dwelling, $1,200, no insurance; Winder & Mapland, stock of groceries, $800, no insurance; Frank Jones & Co., tailors, $800, no insurance; Tully W. Parker, unoccupied store, $1,300, no insurance; Henry D. Carnine, dwelling, furniture and store, $2,300, insurance $1,000; D. J. Carnine, stock of books and stationery, damaged by removal, $300, no insurance; Powell & Waples, goods damaged by water, $1,000, insured; W. T. Wise, stock of drugs damaged by removal, $250, insured; P. A. Leatherberry, damage to building, furniture and goods, $300, insured; John T. Scott, shoe-maker, $100, no insurance; Kellam Broughton, unfinished building, $24,000, insurance, $12,000; Wm. C. West, insurance, $100, no insurance.

It is with the losses estimated above, the broken furniture, destroyed enclosures and property stolen are taken into consideration they will reach at least $55,000, and are covered by insurance amounting to $19,700, all in companies represented by Mr. L. W. Childrey, except $4,500, as follows: Virginia Fire and Marine, $7,200; Phoenix, New York, $2,500; Birmingham, Alabama, $1,500; Iron and Oak of New York, $1,000; Home of New Orleans, $1,000; Mobile Mutual, $1,000; and Agricultural, Watertown, N. Y., $1,000.

The origin of the fire is unknown and cannot be accounted for, as no one had been in the building before the fire started. The fire first started near a very combustible material deposited there. Several parties suffer greatly by the fire—one or two of them being entirely ruined should receive aid from our citizens.

Immediately steps will be taken by Mr. B. T. Parker and Messrs. Slocomb & Ames to build again, and most of the burned buildings will doubtless be replaced by better structures at an early day.
